PORT INFORMATION

Dubrovnik - Croatia

Dubrovnik is a port on the Dalmatian coast. It has very close historical ties with Venice, and to this day the old town has many sights that recall the time when it was under Venetian rule. The city has a majestic cathedral, as well as a church dedicated to St Blaise, the Rector's Palace and Orlando's Column. From the port you can sail off to explore the green islands along the Dalmatian coast.

As required by International legislation, when you return on-board you will be required to go through a metal detector and pass your hand luggage through an x-ray machine. For your safety, we ask you to co-operate and remove any metallic objects from your pockets during the inspection. We remind you that it is not permitted to bring the following articles on-board: arms and ammunition, explosives, compressed or liquified gas, infectious and poisonous substances, corrosive and radioactive substances, objects that could be used as weapons, pointed or cutting instruments, or any other instrument which could clearly be used to harm a person.
